

존경하는 관계자 분께 / Dear Sir/Madam:

I wish to apply for the Creative Intern currently being advertised on tonic15.com.
Please find enclosed my CV for your consideration.

As you can see from my attached CV, I have deep knowledge and passion for Front-End development, and I believe the knowledge and skills built up during this time make me the perfect candidate for the role.

I also manage my own blog and Instagram account (both dedicated to Korean skincare) from the beginning of the present year, which has given me a lot of knowledge about designing a website, curating content and establishing relationships that sometimes go beyond the professional. Also, I understand the importance of managing time plus giving accurate and relevant content each week.

Other aptitudes that can be usable for your brand is my knowledge of languages: Spanish is my first language and I have a basic level of French and Korean. Additionally, I have a First Certificate in English at Level B2. I can also understand some Japanese words thanks to dramas and anime, but I have never studied it.

Before deciding to study and specialize in web development, I obtained a Degree in History while working as a waitress and as a hotel housekeeper. Both jobs have been very valuable to me, as they have taught me to work hard and that customer service is essential to considered your position successful.

But the best reason that makes me perfect for this role is my passion for K-beauty. I spend a lot of time looking for the new product, the new ingredient, the new thing that will take my skin to the next level, sharing it later to everybody who wants to listen (or even if they don't, my parents are a bit tired of my advices). Tonic15 is a reference for me and for a lot of people in United Kingdom, people who want to feel the dedication and devotion that Koreans put into everything they do. To me, there is no other way to understand skincare and wellbeing. It would be an honor to be part of that family and learn from the specialist.
